NEWS BY THE MAILS

Washington, D. C., May 10, 1842.

John Minor Botts once more—Threats of the Soott Londers—

Magnanimity of the Present Administration—Gen. Som

Houston—Chief Clerk Department of the Interior.
You will, no doubt, like many of your readers, be amused at the "Head him-or-die" man making his appearance once more in one of his periodical letters. Ho is now trying to play the same game with Miliard Pill-more that he attempted with John Tyler and with about as much prospect of success as then life was disap-pointed in not being made Secretary of War by the prewho has, no doubt, by his friends, promised the immortal Botts promotion in case of his (Scott's) success, which is doubtful if he is nominated, and more doubtful still, as he will not get the nomination. Botts' letter will not 40 any good, as his friends are now few and far between; he

It seems he is willing to take Gen. Scott without pledges, when such are necessary for the future safety of our country. He went against Gen. Taylor because he pledges, when such are necessary for the future safety of our country. He went against then Taylor because he would not make pledges when it was not necessary. Your readers will readily see what dependence to place upon the opinions of the immortal Botts. Botts dies hard; his fate, politically, is scaled in the good old Dominion. Ho has not a corporal's guard left.

The leaders of the Scott party here swear vengeance upon all efficeholders who dare oppose the nomination of Gen. Scott. They have made threats that they will make a clean sweep of all.

I understand, from a source entitled to great credit, that some of the Scott emissaries approached a certain head of a bureau in this city. (whose family own some three er four whig newspapers in a neighboring State), to get his influence, (which is acknowledged to be great.) in favor of ticheral Scott. He refused and they told him he would be the first to be decapitated. He told them that he never deserted his friends, and that if the present able head of the administration fell, he was willing to fall also rather than desert his principles, and go for a man who has been taken up by the Seward clique, for the purpose of carrying out their paltry purposes.

The Scott party have a majority of the officehoiders in their favor, which is owing to the magnanimity of the present administration, who refuse to turn out men who are opposed to them. So the officehoiders know they are safe under the present administration, and know they will be turned out in case of Scott's election, if they oppose him. If a few of the ins were put out, and friends of the administration put in, you would soon see a different state of feeling among the officehoiders. It is a great pity for the administration put in, you would soon see a different state of feeling among the officehoiders. It is a great pity for the administration put in, you would soon see a different state of feeling among the officehoiders. It is a great pity for the administration put in, you would soon see a different state

Our Key West Correspondence. Key West, (Fla.) May 15, 1852.

The prospect of removing the Indians is very faint. As yet General Blake, the agent, has held no conference with the principal chiefs. It is the opinion generally throughout the State that the Indians will soon have to leave, notens votens, and all classes are anxiously awaiting the movements of General Blake, which will either result in causing their emigration, or will leave them still more dissatisfied, as they have been led to expect much from this mission. Should General Blake fail, it is to be hoped that the administration will adopt some efficient and expeditious means of ridding the State of this annoyance, so disadvantageous to its advancement and improvement. A letter received from Tampa Bay, Fla, dated May 7, says: "I see that the papers, or the contractors through the papers, say 'the Indians are going soon;' but alse! no such good news."

The steamer James L. Day, which arrived here on the 9th from New Orleans, brings little more news of importance; the Indian nation remains tranquil. No serious results are apprehended from the killing of the young squaw some time since, by Capt. Jernigan's command, Brigadier Gen. Hopkins is at present in the field, exgaged in hunting up parties of straggling Indians, and driving them over the boundary line. COMMECRCE.

Additional from Mexico.

[From the New Orleans Courier, May 15.]

We yesterday received Vera Crux papers as fate as the 7th inst. In vain have we looked in those papers for the continuation of the verbal report of the ratification of the Tehuantepe treaty. On the contrary, later accounts state, that on the morning of the 6th inst., a man of war brig and three cutters satied from Vera Cruz for the Contracoulce river, with troops on board. On the same day the steamer Estado de Mexico, having artillery and powder on board, salied from Vera Cruz for the same river, on whose banks they are to be landed, at the point where the Mexicans are creeting batteries to command the passage. Those preparations do not augur very favorably for the friendly feelings of the Mexican rulers, such as a natification of the Tehuantepec treaty would lead us to imagine.

The Mexican Congress had still under discussion the project of a railroad across the isthmus of Tehuantepec. It appears that the bill contemplates a bonus of $2,000,000 to the Mexican government, for the right of way. The government, however, for this sum, does not intend to convey anything more than the right of way; and even that will not be given to the government or citizens of the United States, but to a Mexican association.

This reservation is more ostensible than real, if we may draw any conclusions from the tone of the Mexican journal Et Universal. a upper remarkable for its detectable of government, however, for this sum, does not intend to convey anything more than the right of way; and even that will not be given to the government or citizens of the United States, but to a Mexican association.

This reservation is more estensible than real, if we may draw any conclusions from the tone of the Mexican journal El Universal, a paper remarkable for its detectation of all foreigners. The colitor of the paper in question gives his readers to understand that a company has been, or will be formed, for the construction of the Tehuantepeo raliroad—that although said company may promise allegiance to Mexico, it will be composed of English capitalists, who will take care that neither the Yankees nor their government reap any advantages from the raticoal.

Mr. Fillmore and his cabinet will have to look sharp after the agents of John Bull in Mexico, or they will have a business on hand much more serious than the Nicaragna or Musquito Shore difficulty. The Mexican government is evidently disposed to use the Tehuantepee concession so as to make the most money it can out of England and the United States.

According to the latest official accounts, the Mexican army only mustered 4.400 men, of all arms. It has a splendid staff, however, of four major-generals, twelve brigadier-generals, colonels, &c.

Letters from Campeachy, as late as the 27th ult. have been received at Vera Craz. The writers say no foars need be entertained as to the result of General Vega's expedition against the Indians. The last accounts from him state that he was advancing on the town of Bacalar, and so far had met with scarcely any resistance.

The project of a coalition between the States of Chinuahua. Coahulla Duranho, New Leon, San Lais Potosi, Tamaulipas, and Zacatecas, ostensibly to carry on war against the Indians is a question admitting of other interpretations, and therefore unfavorably interpreted by jea lous Mexicans.

[From the N. O. Picayune, May 15]

Looking over our files of Mexicoa per services to the chief of the departmen city, speaks in rapturous terms. They left for the city of Mexico on the 5d.

The papers all over Mexico are urging upon the people and government the necessity of construcing railroads. The Siclo says that on the 23d uit, the government urged upon the Chamber of Deputies the prompt passage of a law authorizing the admission of foreign flour into VeraCruz, at a duty of §3 per barrer of 200 pounds.

The general government has conferred the title of "loyal" upon the city of Matamoros, and assigned honorable distinctions to the regular troops and national guards who defended it. The legislature of the State of Tamaulipus has also decreed crosses of honor to Gen. Canales, Col. Cruz, and other officers, with appropriace inscriptions.

If thus troubled, one flask of Lyon's Magnetic Powder, and one how of his Pills, costing only 25 cents each, will free you hot from incested and vermin.
